Tours of Old Town announces late night “Friday the 13th” Ghost Tour in Albuquerque, New Mexico

Albuquerque, NM – Tours of Old Town will offer special “Friday the 13th” Ghost Tours in February and March 2009. Legends, folklore, ghost stories and history come to life as professional guides escort guests on an intriguing, 90-minute, walking tour through 300 years of haunted history. Friday the 13th Tours include interesting trivia and fun facts surrounding today’s superstitions, many of which date back to the Middle Ages. Friday the 13th is believed to be an unlucky day in much of Western Europe, North America and Australia with deep roots in both Christian and Pagan cultures. Tours of Old Town works with a variety of professional Ghost Hunters, Paranormal Investigators, psychics and skeptics and does not attempt to dictate what a person should think or believe. Guests are invited to view the evidence then decide for themselves the possibility of the existence of the supernatural.

The Ghost Tour of Old Town is held every night of the year at 8:00pm. A special, spookier, late night Ghost Tour will be held at 10:00pm on Friday the 13th in February and March 2009. Tickets are $20.00 per Adult with discounts offered to Seniors, Military, College Students and Children. The Friday the 13th Tour special includes a “Buy one adult tour ticket at regular price and get the 2nd for only $13.00”. Additional information is available on-line at www.ToursOfOldTown.com.
